About Our Pricing Categories

Educational, healthcare and other institutions, professional schools, libraries and community organizations pay a higher price for videos in order to obtain public screening rights, which grants permission for unlimited screenings of the video before a public audience or in a classroom. Video sales and speaking engagements are our primary means of generating the revenue necessary to support distribution of Walking at the Edge and the production of new films of healing and the human spirit. If you believe your organization fits into one of these categories but does not have the resources to afford that price, please contact us.
